

2022 IN REVIEW

Another year of great speakers on interesting topics

February

New perspectives on OHS

Kevin Jones

Award-winning blogger on safety matters

A look at some of the latest ideas and information published on OHS-related issues

March

The changing role of the OHS professional

Pam Pryor AO

*Manager OHS BoK Development,
Australian Institute of Health and Safety*

'Disciplinary ambiguity' and other changes affecting the OHS profession

April

Psychological hazards - regulatory approaches

Tracey Browne

*National Safety & Workers' Compensation
Policy and Membership Services, AIG*

New WorkSafe regulations to protect workers better from mental injury

May

Ethics in safety

Keith Govias

Vincent Fairfax Fellow in Ethical Leadership

Applying an ethical framework to OHS decision making, performance measurement and injury management

June

OHS without borders – helping overseas

Jason Green

President, Australian branch, Workplace Health Without Borders

How to contribute and make a difference where workers face unhealthy and unsafe conditions

July

Return to work – what research is telling us

Dr Carys Chan

Centre for Work, Organisation and Wellbeing, Griffith University, Qld

The psychological effects of workplace injury - and how employers can help

August

OHS and social sustainability

Phil Lovelock

*Senior Health, Safety and Wellbeing
Consultant and Policy Advisor, VCCI*

How OHS professionals can support business to build and maintain social sustainability

September

When a company is small and risks are high

Ben Thomson

Safety Manager, Flight Academy Australia

Strategies for small companies to refresh and strengthen their safety management systems

October

60th Anniversary lunch

Dr Narelle Beer

Executive Director, Health and Safety, WorkSafe Victoria

The future of safety in Victoria

Barry Naismith

A history of safety in Victoria

November

Five top tops for successful auditing

Ross Macfarlane

Director, RM The Risk Manager

How to develop and implement
A successful audit based on risk

RM The Risk Manager, For Life